IMMUNIZATION & TESTS CHECKUP SCHEDULE

Your child will be given a series of immunizations beginning as a newborn. These shots provide your child with protection against many dangerous but preventable diseases. In addition, other tests, including blood tests, are routinely performed at certain ages. The schedule, as recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics, is listed below. In addition, the flu vaccine is recommended every fall starting at 6 months of age. We look forward to helping your child remain healthy!
